"Designed by a renowned Spanish designer, Las Palomas is nestled in a lush pine and eucalyptus forest between Sant Joseph de sa Talaia and Cala Tarida. With its panoramic outlook, guests can indulge in Ibizan and Mediterranean landscapes".

The home is orientated towards the sunset with views to the islands of Conillera, S'Espartar and Es Vedrá. It is these magical Mediterranean vistas and the sumptuous design that make this residence such a pleasure to be in.

Situated on a mountain, its natural downhill grades and slopes create cascading levels and optimize the sea view from each space.

Two separate chill-out areas have been created for watching the sunset and an outdoor table shaded by a vegetation covered trellis provides an ideal spot for al fresco dining, while the sun loungers spread around the pool offer a sleek counterpoint to the rugged stonework of the landscaping.

On an architectural level, the house is characterized by its rounded-edged and hand plastered stucco and accented with minimalist touches. Inside, it is in immaculate condition with top of the range fixtures and furnishings.

The property is accessed through electric gates and the beautiful beaches of Cala Tarida, Cala Moli or Cala Vadella are only a short distance away and excellent restaurants serving fresh seafood are nearby.

Living Areas

The lounge has amazing sea views and is furnished with a large sofa and two matching easy chairs with two Zebrano wood coffee tables in the center. It features a fireplace, flat screen TV with satellite, DVD Blue Ray, and music system for iPod.
